DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

This office action is in response to applicant's amendment filed October 23, 2006. Applicant amends claims 1, 5, 6, 10 and 11; adds claims 12 and 13; and responds to claims rejections. Claims 1 and 5-13 are now pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.
3. Claim 9 recites the limitation "buffer member" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. Examiner will interpret claim to read "parts holding member." Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1 and 5-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Stambolic et al. US Patent 5,685,776.

Art Unit: 3714

6. Regarding at least claims 1, 5-12, Stambolic discloses a main board, Fig 3a Item 52 extending in a first direction; a switch board perpendicular to the main board, Fig 5b item 88; a protruding push switch that operates in the direction of the first direction (main board) Fig 5b Item 82; a parts holding member interposed between the two boards that will receive stress, see below; a switch board holding member, see below. Switch board holding member and parts holding member can be monolithically formed; a battery terminal integrally or monolithically formed with the parts holding member; fig 3a & 4b; rib-like structure to receive force around both the push switch and battery area. Fig 3a & 5b.

7. Parts Holding Member and switch board holding member

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3714

10. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

11. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stambolic as applied to claim 12 above. Stambolic discloses the use of pins to secure the main board it does not explicitly disclose the use of engaging hooks. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to utilize snapping or engaging hooks to secure the main board. The use of snapping something into place with hooks is notoriously well known. This would allow the board to maintain its position while the enclosure is put together and before the pins and or other fasteners are put in place.

12. Examiner's Note: Examiner has cited particular columns and line numbers in the references as applied to the claims above for the convenience of the applicant.

Although the specified citations are representative of the teachings in the art and are applied to the specific limitations within the individual claim, other passages and figures may apply as well. It is respectfully requested from the applicant, in preparing the responses, to fully consider the references in entirety as potentially teaching all or part of the claimed invention, as well as the context of the passage as taught by the prior art or disclosed by the examiner.

13. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 and 5-11 have been considered but are moot in view of the amendment and subsequent new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

14. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
